To My Fellow History Makers:

It took me 160 minutes, and after three trials I finally arrived at this. After our hopes are crushed and the chains of disaster try to bound us in despair, How do we react? Do we cloud our minds with cynical thoughts or do we hold on to our ascertained beauty of life? With every torn paper and every minute spent I realized that in times of utmost vulnerability, those who still find the strength to encourage and help others are the heroes that humanity so desperately needs. Also, those who find the courage to speak the truth are the angels that we don't deserve. I am neither an angel nor a hero, but the truth is...we are history makers that determine the future through our actions, and when we look back at our scars we will see how we emerge triumphant.

*A Message
From the
Salutatorian,
Kelvin Boakye*

Hello:

It's Kelvin here. I want to use this opportunity to thank God for our families and the Class of 2020.

There's no need for us to be afraid or paranoid during this pandemic, but rather do our due diligence, and take precautions. We need to protect ourselves and everyone around us. I want to let the Class of 2020 know that hope is not lost and there is greatness after this calamity. So therefore, we should continue to keep striving for success and greatness for we will surely get there. We don't know how long this is going to take, but I believe everything happens for a reason, thus if we are able to practice values such as accountability, kindness, resilience and courage in this time, I believe that there will be unity and positive outcomes that we have never experienced before, once we all get back out again. I want us to make the best out of this situation and I promise all that our result will be waiting for us out there. Thank you, God bless. "I.P."

Yours Sincerely,

Kelvin Boakye.

To the Class of 2020,

Wow!!! What a year! You all have worked hard, endured to the end, remained strong and made many good memories at Weequahic High School. As principal of Weequahic High School I must commend you on a job well done. Your experience during these years has been exciting at times and challenging at times. The exciting times will carry you for the rest of your life with endless memories of your classmates, teachers, and best friends. The challenging times will make you mentally stronger and able to adapt to life's many changes. In recent years, you have witnessed, firsthand, the transformation in our country's government. This transformation has created challenges for most Americans, particularly the so-called minorities of this country. The Corona Virus Pandemic (COVID-19) has unleashed something that our world has never seen and as a result classes/schools have been moved to distance learning, traditional graduations have moved to virtual and the future of schools are on the verge on changing. President Obama sums it up by saying "More than anything, this pandemic has fully finally torn back the curtain on the idea that so many of the folks in charge know what they're doing, a lot of them aren't even pretending to be in charge." That's why the world need graduates like you. You are more ready than anyone to become our next leaders in the quest to make our world a better one.

You have withstood obstacles that would have broken many.

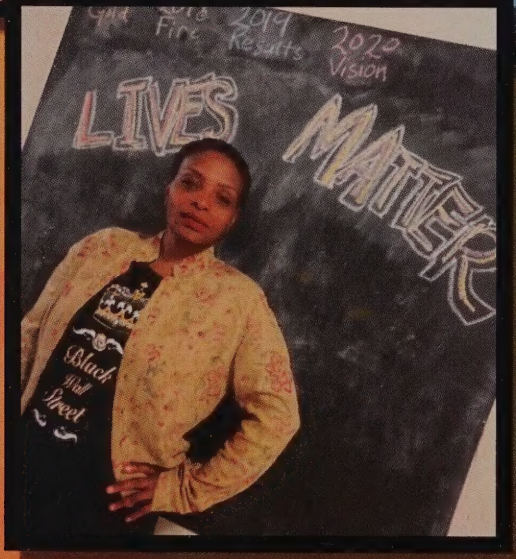

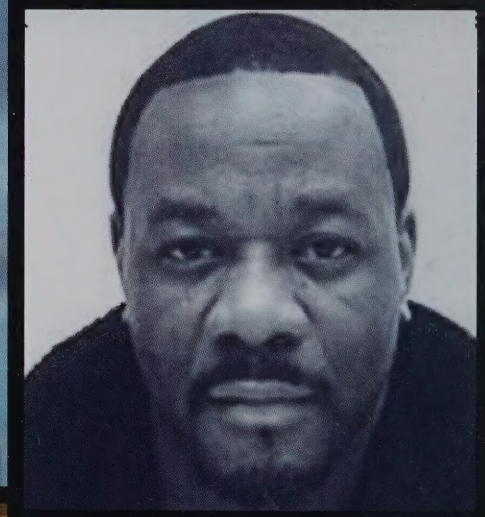

I am proud to have been your principal during these times and when you look back, I am sure that you will agree that under the cover of challenges lay a diamond. You are that diamond!

Congratulations to the Class of 2020

Samari,

Thank you for taking the time to audition with us today. I was impressed with your musicianship. At Virginia State University we are committed to excellence and we would love to welcome you into the Trojan Explosion Marching Band.

Based on your audition, I am recommending a Music Scholarship in the amount of $500 a year. You will find a formal letter attached. Please share with your parents/guardians.

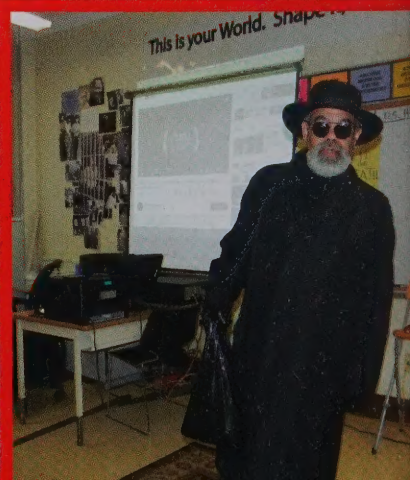

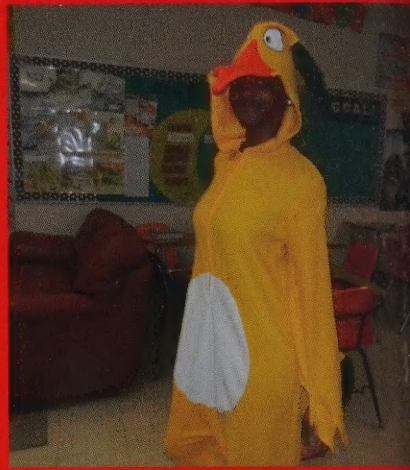

Please let us know your intentions on if you plan to accept this scholarship offer as soon as you make a decision so that we can plan accordingly. All students that do accept this offer will need to apply and be accepted to the University.

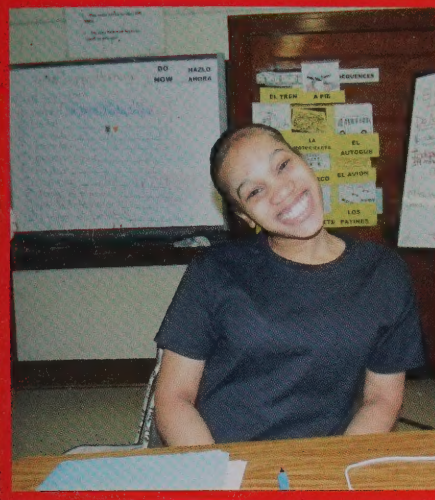

Congratulations!
